A Forest Christmas

Clare Helen Welsh, Jenny Miriam

Join the animals of the forest to celebrate the magic of Christmas in this pop-up, light-up tale!

Little Bear is excited for her first Christmas. Squirrel, Rabbit, Badger and the mice have invited her to help with one of their favourite traditions: finding the perfect Christmas tree.

But as the friends search the forest, none of the pines looks quite right. This one isn't tall enough. That one should be greener. This one could be wider. The group turn to Little Bear to make the final decision, but there are so many choices, she doesn't know which to pick. Until she thinks maybe the perfect tree isn't found. Maybe it's made . . .

Clare Helen Welsh's charming text and Jenny Miriam's cosy woodland scenes weave together to create a beautiful picture book that doubles as a decoration and gift, ideal for young families, who will love the message of seeing the wonder in the everyday and the power we all have to make something beautiful.

Get into the festive spirit with this heartwarming book with a dazzling novelty finale: a light-up, pop-up tree that is perfect to display as your very own festive decoration!

Where Otters Play

Eirinn McGuinness

Discover the wonders of nature in this beautiful flap-filled picture book.

When Sadie finds an otter statue at Grandpa's house, she becomes determined to see a real otter, so the pair set off for the lake, hoping for a glimpse of this elusive creature. As Sadie waits, Grandpa helps her discover a world of wonder all around her. Dragonflies dart through the reeds, kingfishers dive like arrows and voles splash. With every new discovery, Sadie learns that the magic of nature is often right in front of us – we just need to look.

Created by Eirinn McGuinness, illustrator of the bestselling Words Can Fly poetry anthology, this heartwarming story is a celebration of interacting with the natural world. Featuring six intricate flaps, it encourages children to join in with the wildlife spotting and discover the lake's hidden treasures for themselves. Readers can even embark on their own outdoor adventures, using the final spread of practical tips as a starting point to look for otters in the wild responsibly.

This nostalgic picture book is the perfect invitation to take a moment to admire the world around us.

The Moon Shines Bright in the Sky at Night

Emma Carlisle

This beautifully illustrated picture book takes young readers on a gentle, lyrical exploration of nature at nighttime, highlighting the comfort and wonder that can be found in the dark.

A bedtime picture book from award-winning artist Emma Carlisle, creator of the Waterstones Children's Book Prize-shortlisted What Do You See When You Look at a Tree?

Step into the magic of the night in this beautifully illustrated story and discover how the world awakens whilst we sleep. Young readers are gently guided through a woodland alive with hidden life – from the flicker of a fox's tail to the silent sweep of a barn owl's wings beneath a sky glowing with the Moon and stars. Lyrical, soothing text creates a calm, enchanting bedtime journey into the secret lives of nocturnal animals.

Perfect for bedtime, the book offers a soothing and accessible introduction to nighttime, especially for children who may be afraid of the dark. Through themes of mindfulness, it gently addresses the fear of the unknown and the future, showing how each night brings new life and wonder. Ideal for young nature lovers, it also offers reassurance for children exploring the mysteries of darkness.

Earth Ever After

Elin Manon

A stunning fusion of graphic novel artistry and folktale, told through the eyes of Mother Earth.

This beautifully illustrated book takes readers on an unforgettable journey from Earth's creation to the present, celebrating our deep connection with nature while offering a poignant reflection on the state of our world.

Embrace the story of our Earth. Embrace the story of us all.

In this unique graphic novel, Mother Earth herself narrates a timeless story of growth, change and the delicate balance between humanity and nature. Through lyrical text and captivating illustrations by artist Elin Manon, readers journey from the creation of the Earth and the birth of life to the present day, witnessing the planet's transformation and deep connection with humanity.

But Earth Ever After is more than just a story—it's a gentle reminder of our shared responsibility to protect the world around us. This enchanting book inspires hope and healing, offering a moment of reflection in our busy, modern lives. It encourages us to think about how we can live more harmoniously with the planet, making it a perfect way to spark important conversations about our relationship with nature.

Ziggy the Caterpillar's Zigzag Adventure

Beatrice Simpkins

A vibrant and heartwarming debut picture book.

Follow Ziggy, a little caterpillar who just can't sit still, as she embarks on a zigzagging adventure – meeting new friends and discovering more about herself along the way.

From hopping between leaves to zigzagging up branches, Ziggy's adventure is a whirlwind of excitement – but it's also a journey of self-discovery. As Ziggy learns to embrace their unique, wiggly ways, children are introduced to themes of mindfulness, patience and the beauty of being different.

Through colourful, dynamic illustrations and a lovable main character, Ziggy the Caterpillar's Zigzag Adventure teaches children to appreciate their individual quirks and understand that everyone has their own unique path to transformation.

With ADHD-inspired behaviour at the heart of the story, this book offers a gentle and playful exploration of how some of us move through the world in a way that might seem different – but is also special.

Dawn Horse

Grahame Baker-Smith

From the tiny prehistoric horses of ancient forests to the majestic creatures we know today, this captivating graphic novel offers a thrilling adventure through millions of years of evolution.

Join Palomino, a curious young horse, on a journey through time to meet his prehistoric ancestors. As he witnesses millions of years of evolution, Palomino also discovers the powerful bond between horses and humans – a relationship that has shaped civilisations and endured both beauty and hardship.

Grahame Baker-Smith's exquisite artwork beautifully blends an emotive story about the life of one horse with how the whole species came to exist, moving seamlessly between the personal and the epic.

Enriched by the guidance of Dr Yvette Running Horse Collin and her groundbreaking research alongside her deep cultural insight, Dawn Horse honours both scientific discovery and Indigenous knowledge.

Starborn

Tessa Cobb

A beautiful, poetic picture book that explores family, belonging and the wonders of the night sky.

A journey that will take your heart to the stars and back, Starborn addresses life's big questions through the awe and wonder of a curious little girl, with the gentleness of a warm, comforting blanket - the perfect bedtime story to inform and inspire night-sky enthusiasts of every age.

When a little girl starts asking her dad curious questions about the night sky, she discovers that the life of a star is not so different from her own. Just like a twinkling star, Tessa shines through her creativity and love. Just like the stars that form our galaxy, Tessa's family grows and gathers, always finding its way back together. As she learns how stars leave behind a lasting legacy, Tessa is reminded of her grandad, whose paintings continue to inspire and connect those he loved.

A beautiful story about family, belonging and the connections that endure across generations, Starborn gently weaves facts about the night sky into its narrative and includes a spectacular fold-out star map at the end.

Welcome to the Museum

Cally Oldershaw, Brian Jeongyong Lee

Welcome to Mineralium, the latest title in the best-selling Welcome to the Museum series.

Minerals and rocks have been forming on Earth for more than 4.6 billion years, and there are more colours, textures and shapes than you can imagine. Tour the galleries of Mineralium to discover where and how minerals are found and how they are mined. Find out about the differences between minerals, crystals and gemstones, and how scientists classify them depending on their chemistry or their symmetry.

See what a sand grain looks like when it is magnified 40 times. Find out what is so special about salt and why it is the only rock we need to eat to survive. Be amazed at the range of colours, shapes and sizes of minerals—from tiny crystals that you need a microscope to see, to record-breaking crystals that grow bigger than a human. In the final gallery, learn how the biggest, best or clearest crystals are cut and polished into breathtaking gemstones.

Geologist and gemmologist Cally Oldershaw's expert text combines with incredible watercolour illustrations from mineral artist Brian Jeongyong Lee to create an awe-inspiring guide to the world of minerals, crystals and gems – Mineralium will make the perfect gift or family reference.

Monster Anatomy

Matt Ralphs, Caitlin Turner

A visually stunning and informative exploration of mythical creatures, offering unique insights into their anatomy, origins and the legends that brought them to life.

Welcome, monster hunter! If you hold this book, then you seek knowledge few dare to face.

For ages uncounted, I – Bai Ze, wanderer and keeper of beast-lore – have studied the monsters that haunt our myths. I have watched the fiery Boitata coil through burning forests, glimpsed the vast Kraken thrashing beneath stormy seas and traced the roots of creatures long spoken of in whispers. Their bodies tell stories; their bones carry truths.

Within these pages, you will find careful drawings that reveal how each creature is shaped, how it survives and why it lingers in the tales of humankind. My anatomical findings will show you what lies beneath fang, scale and shadow, capturing the spirit, power and mystery of every beast.

This book is not merely a collection of monsters – it is a field guide for the bold and the curious. Study it well and you will see how these beings live, breathe, hunt and endure. You will understand their origins, their strengths and the secrets that bind them to our world.

The Non-Magical Adventures of Bella Crumb

Kirk Slater

A riotously funny new graphic novel series about a disastrously determined would-be witch!

Meet Bella Crumb: future legendary witch . . . probably.

Bella is 100% sure she's the most powerful witch who ever waved a (plastic, battery-powered) wand. Sure, her broom refuses to fly, her spells have a tiny habit of exploding and her familiar is a grumpy cat who won't take orders—but greatness has to start somewhere, right?

When Bella becomes convinced that her grandma is also secretly a super-powerful witch, she sets out on a mission to impress Grandma.

But mastering witchcraft isn't easy when your lessons include 'potions' that smell like used socks, extremely uncooperative 'ghosts' and a glitter-obsessed neighbour who WILL NOT STOP 'helping'.

With just one week to prove she's the real deal, can Bella master magic . . . or will chaos win (again)?

Warning: contains unstable magic!
